

Kress Language Fellowships for Art History Graduate Students

Middlebury College (VT) or Mills College (CA), Jun 23–Aug 18, 2017
Application deadline: Dec 15, 2016

Brook Escobedo

The Samuel H. Kress Foundation has once again awarded the Middlebury Language Schools five fellowships, each covering a summer of study (full tuition, room and board) in one of the following languages: French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish. Travel expenses and books are not included in the fellowship.

The fellowships are intended for graduate students in art history with a proposed focus on European art history or graduate students in art conservation. Preference is given to graduate students who have recently been accepted to, or are currently enrolled in, the corresponding program at a PhD-granting institution in the United States. In exceptional cases, advanced undergraduates in art history who are preparing for graduate study in the same field may also be considered. Details about the scholarship application can be found at <http://www.middlebury.edu/ls/finaid/fellowships/kress/>.

The deadline to apply for the Kress Fellowships is December 15, 2016. Students must also have a completed Language Schools application on file. Applications can be found at <http://www.middlebury.edu/ls/apply>.

Should you have specific questions not answered on the website, please email Assistant Dean Beth Karnes Keefe or call 802.443.5685.

The Kress Foundation website offers more information about its support of the appreciation, interpretation, preservation, study and teaching of the history of European art and architecture.

Reference:

STIP: Kress Language Fellowships for Art History Graduate Students. In: ArtHist.net, Nov 11, 2016 (accessed Jul 10, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/14190>>.