MODOS, vol. 1, no. 1

We are pleased to announce the launching of the first edition of MODOS, a magazine providing a new platform for debates on art history. Published by the Research Group MODOS - História da Arte: modos de ver, exhibir e compreender [MODES – Art History: modes of seeing, exhibiting and understanding], the magazine aims to contribute toward diffusing recent theoretical texts in the field of visual arts. Three online editions shall be launched each year, offering free access to their content. It will accept articles (in portuguese, spanish and english), translations, interviews and reviews, as well as texts for thematic dossiers, organized by researchers invited by the Editorial Board or by the Editors.

The articles published in the first edition present topics of interest to the magazine, investigated in distinct manners by art historians: critique, curatorship, exhibitions, collections, institutions and methodological questions of the field.

We would like to invite everyone to visit the many modes of writing art history. Read, spread the word, share and, above all, contribute to this space with your own MODES to enrich and multiply discussion about art, its history, theory and critique.
