

Art in Translation, Vol. 9:1, 2017

Iain Boyd Whyte

ART IN TRANSLATION is pleased to announce the publication of a special issue:

Spain and Orientalism, vol. 9:1 (2017)

co-edited by Claudia Hopkins (University of Edinburgh) and Anna McSweeney (Warburg Institute)

This is the first English-language journal issue dedicated to Spanish Orientalism in art and visual culture in the 19th and 20th centuries. The peer-reviewed articles, drawn from a panel at the Association of Art Historians conference in 2016, examine Spain's complex relationship with her Islamic past and with Morocco, through art, architecture, photography and material culture. They address a range of topics including patterns of collecting, the reproduction of Islamic art and architecture for private and public spaces, the role of Spain's Islamic heritage in the construction of a national identity as exemplified in Spanish exhibition pavilions, the intersections between art and colonialism, and the role of Spanish art and visual culture in the wider debates about Orientalism.

<http://www.tandfonline.com/toc/rfat20/9/1>

Table of Contents:

Editorial: Spain and Orientalism

by Anna McSWEENEY and Claudia HOPKINS

The Arab Room of the Palacio de Cerralbo

by Ariane VARELA BRAGA

Reconstructing the Alhambra: Rafael Contreras and the Architectural Models of the Alhambra in the Nineteenth Century

by Asun GONZALEZ PEREZ

Mudéjar and the Alhambresque: Spanish Pavilions at the Universal Expositions and the Invention of a National Style

by Anna McSWEENEY

Vision, Lamentation and Nineteenth-Century Representations of the End of al-Andalus

by Oscar E. VÁZQUEZ

Allende el Estrecho (Beyond the Straits): The Photographic Gaze on the Orient in Andalusia and Morocco

by David SÁNCHEZ CANO

Visualizing 'Moorish' Traces within Spain: Orientalism and Medievalist Nostalgia in Spanish Colonial Photojournalism 1909-33

by Elisabeth BOLORINOS ALLARD

The Politics of Spanish Orientalism: Distance and Proximity in Tapiró and Bertuchi

by Claudia HOPKINS

Select Bibliography: Spain and Orientalism

Reference:

TOC: Art in Translation, Vol. 9:1, 2017. In: Arthist.net, Oct 2, 2017 (accessed Jan 10, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/16286>>.