

PhD studentships, University of Birmingham

University of Birmingham

Application deadline: Jan 15, 2018

Claire Jones

Major PhD funding opportunity for UK/EU students

The University of Birmingham is part of the Midlands3Cities Doctoral Training Partnership (M3C DTP), offering up to 80 Arts and Humanities Research Council PhD studentships for campus-based programmes across the six M3C DTP partners.

<http://www.midlands3cities.ac.uk/>

Each studentship includes full research fees, a substantial maintenance grant and additional research training support. Applications are now open.

For queries about pursuing a PhD in Art History, Curating or Visual Studies at the University of Birmingham, please send a 2-page research proposal with an indication of two potential supervisors (one at Birmingham and a second at a university in the M3C partnership), to Dr Claire Jones, Director of Postgraduate Studies, Department of Art History, Curating and Visual Studies, c.jones.4@bham.ac.uk

The Midlands3Cities Doctoral Training Partnership (M3C DTP) is a collaboration between the University of Birmingham, Birmingham City University, De Montfort University, University of Leicester, Nottingham Trent University and the University of Nottingham.

This doctoral scheme provides studentships which enable students to undertake and complete a doctoral degree. Studentships will normally be for up to three years for full-time study, or up to six years for part-time study. They are for campus based students only and distance learning is not therefore eligible.

Deadlines and further information

The deadline for funding applications and references is Monday 15 January 2018. By which time you must also have applied for a place to study.

The funding application form and reference forms will be available from the Midlands3Cities website. It is your responsibility to ensure that your AHRC references have also been received by the deadline, on the forms provided on the Midlands3Cities website.

You will need to refer to the University of Birmingham AHRC Applicant Guidance before your application is submitted. It is important that you read the guidance document to ensure you submit the correct information for both your admissions and funding applications.

For more information on how to apply for a studentship with Birmingham as your lead institution, please visit our Application Page, <https://www.birmingham.ac.uk/schools/calgs/scholarships/ahrc-application-midlands3cities>

Support with your application

We have produced a set of Frequently Asked Questions, which lists important contacts and answers many of the questions you may have, along with some additional guidance notes for applicants. <https://www.birmingham.ac.uk/schools/calgs/scholarships/ahrc-faqs.aspx>

Further information

For full details of eligibility, funding and research supervision areas, please visit the Midlands3Cities Doctoral Training Partnership website, <http://www.midlands3cities.ac.uk/>

Reference:

STIP: PhD studentships, University of Birmingham. In: ArtHist.net, Oct 13, 2017 (accessed Jan 14, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/16464>>.