

IAA Yearbook, vol. 19, 2017: Retracing the past

Zoltan Somhegyi, Károli Gáspár University of the Reformed Church in Hungary

Yearbook of the International Association for Aesthetics (IAA)
Volume 19, 2017

"Retracing the past. Historical continuity in aesthetics from a global perspective"
Edited by Zoltán Somhegyi

CONTENTS

Introduction 7

Zoltán Somhegyi

The paradox of mimesis. In connection with Aristotle

Béla Bacsó

9

Reflections on the subject of Antiquity and the future

Raffaele Milani

23

Contemplation or manipulation? Aesthetic perspectives on nature and animals from Shaftesbury to bio-art

Karl Axelsson & Camilla Flodin

29

The Painter in the landscape. Aesthetic considerations on a pictorial sub-genre

Zoltán Somhegyi

42

Jan Gwalbert Pawlikowski. A forerunner of landscape aesthetics

Mateusz Salwa

54

Mis-construction: Changes in the arts and aesthetics East and West

Curtis Carter

66

The woman-and-tree motif in the ancient and contemporary India

Marzenna Jakubczak

79

Semiology and/or anthropology of Western painting

Miško Šuvaković

94

A great future behind us. Exploded traditions, avant-garde pasts

Tyrus Miller

107

Successiveness and simultaneity in 20th century aesthetics. Two models of "post-historical" art

Rodrigo Duarte

118

Robert Motherwell and John Constable. Intra-subjectivity and time as determinants of serial painting in American Abstract Expressionism and British Romanticist landscape painting

Manfred Milz

131

The Body of Evidence? From Danto to Kant and back

Zoltán Papp

150

Making history through anachronic imagining. Notes on art history and temporal complexities of the present

Jacob Lund

165

Aesthetics in cyberspace. Contemporary mass culture and Korean Pop

Jiun Lee-Whitaker

177

Rock me Amadeus. A lowbrow reading of high culture – or how to deal with high cultured appropriation?

Max Ryyänen

186

The renewal of the past towards the future. The case of Jean Nouvel's architecture

Jale Erzen

197

Katsuhiko Miyamoto's The Fukushima No. 1. Nuclear Power Plant Shrine "Acting-out" and "working-through"

Yoshiko Suzuki

211

Tokyo, the versatile city. Glimpses between postmodernity and tradition

Federico Farnè

234

Contributors

247

The book is downloadable from the website of the IAA:

<http://www.iaaesthetics.org/item/191-volume-19-zoltan-somhegyi-ed-retracing-the-past-historical-continuity-in-aesthetics-from-a-global-perspective>.

Further suggested publications:

You can find previous Yearbooks in the “Publications/Yearbooks” section of the IAA website:

<http://www.iaaesthetics.org/publications/yearbooks>

As well as proceeding books in the “Publication/Proceedings” section:

<http://www.iaaesthetics.org/publications/proceedings>

Reference:

TOC: IAA Yearbook, vol. 19, 2017: Retracing the past. In: ArtHist.net, Feb 15, 2018 (accessed Apr 10, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/17356>>.