THINKING ART (COVENTRY, 3 MAY 18)

Coventry, University of Warwick, Department of Philosophy, University of Warwick, Social Sciences S.019, May 03, 2018

Thinking Art
Graduate Conference

Organised by the Warwick Philosophy and the Arts MA Student Committee

The University of Warwick’s postgraduate Philosophy and the Arts programme invites you to the Thinking Art one-day graduate conference on 3 May 2018, where we will be joined by Professor Matthew Kieran (University of Leeds), Gianluca Lorenzini (University of Warwick), Daisy Dixon (University of Cambridge), Jennifer Hankin (Loughborough University) and Samantha Groenestyn (University of Vienna).

Matthew Kieran is Professor of Philosophy and the Arts at University of Leeds. He was awarded a Leverhulme Research Fellowship in 2012 to start work on a long-term project on creativity. Professor Kieran will deliver a talk on The Character of Creativity which will develop aspects of his recent work on the nature of creativity and what it is to be a creative person (in particular thinking about the nature of creative virtue). Professor Kieran's broader interests range over art, psychology and ethics. He is the author of many articles and books, including Revealing Art (2005).

PROGRAM

10.30 – 11.00
Arrival - Tea & coffee

11:00 – 11:10
Intro/presentation

11:10 – 12.05
Daisy Dixon (University of Cambridge)
"Metaphor in art"

12:05 – 13.00
Jennifer Hankin (Loughborough University)
"The experience of utopia within contemporary installations"
13:00 – 14:00 Lunch break

14:00 – 14:55
Samantha Groenestyn (University of Vienna)
"Geometry and painting"

14:55 – 15:50
Gianluca Lorenzini (University of Warwick)
"Art theory, philosophy of art and intentionality"

15:50 – 16:30 Tea & coffee

16:30 – 18:00
KEYNOTE:
Professor Matthew Kieran (University of Leeds)
"The Character of Creativity"

We look forward to seeing lots of you there. If you have any queries please contact us at m.caldarini@warwick.ac.uk

REFERENCE:
CONF: Thinking Art (Coventry, 3 May 18). In: ArtHist.net, Apr 21, 2018 (accessed May 25, 2020), <https://arthist.net/archive/17928>.