

Yale ISM Fellows in Sacred Music, Worship and the Arts

New Haven, CT

Application deadline: Oct 15, 2011

Glen Segger

The Yale Institute of Sacred Music is accepting applications for the 2012-2013 ISM Fellows in Sacred Music, Worship and the Arts. Scholars and practitioners whose work is in sacred music, liturgical/ritual studies or religion and the arts are invited to apply. The fellowship carries a stipend of up to $52,000 and housing is provided. Other benefits include travel and research funds, and offers the opportunity to teach. For full details on the program, please visit <http://www.yale.edu/ism/fellows/> or contact the ISM Fellows Coordinator at glen.segger@yale.edu.

Reference:

STIP: Yale ISM Fellows in Sacred Music, Worship and the Arts. In: ArtHist.net, Oct 1, 2011 (accessed Jul 16, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/1947>>.