

Getty Library Research Grants for 2020

Los Angeles, California

Application deadline: Oct 15, 2019

Kathleen Salomon, Getty Research Institute

Applications for the 2020 Getty Library Research Grants are now available online.

Getty Library Research Grants provide partial, short-term support to researchers of all nationalities whose projects demonstrate a compelling need to use Getty Research Institute materials, and whose place of residence is more than 80 miles from the Getty Center in Los Angeles.

In addition to the open call for applications relating to projects utilizing any specific area of the GRI's collections, several focused grants will be awarded:

Specialized topics:

- Research on intersections between art and science
- Research on connections between visual art forms and music
- Research considering the visual culture of food, including culinary history, and the preparation and presentation of food
- Research that utilizes the Conservation Collection, specialized research materials related to the preservation and conservation of material cultural heritage

Special opportunities for advanced undergraduates:

- Opportunities specifically for advanced undergraduates majoring in art history, architectural history, or studio art, to conduct research in the GRI's special collections and library
