

Bibliotheca Herziana Pre- and Postdoctoral Fellowships

Roma

Application deadline: Dec 15, 2019

Caterina Scholl, Bibliotheca Hertziana

The Bibliotheca Hertziana – Max Planck Institute for Art History in Rome offers at the earliest opportunity

Predoctoral and Postdoctoral Fellowships

in the department of Prof. Dr. Tanja Michalsky. The department welcomes projects in – but not necessarily limited to – one of its core research areas:

Historical spaces and their media of representation, sacred spaces, Southern Italy (especially Naples) and social reality in Italian films.

The department's website provides further information on these research areas. Candidates should propose a project to be funded for two to three years (predoctoral) or one to two years (postdoctoral). Successful candidates will be expected to be part of a group of young scholars focused on one of the topics and to participate in the institute's activities.

Candidates should submit their application on the following website from November 28 until December 15: <https://recruitment.biblhertz.it>.

Interviews will take place in January.

In addition to providing your personal information, a short abstract (preferably 1000 characters) and the contact address of two potential referees (no letters) on the application website, the following must be uploaded as separate PDF files:

- a description of the research project including bibliography
- a curriculum vitae
- a list of publications
- a research timeline

The Max Planck Society is committed to increasing the number of individuals with disabilities in its workforce and therefore encourages applications from such qualified individuals.
