The Rijksmuseum Fellowship Programme is open to the new generation of museum professionals: inquisitive specialists who will further develop understanding of Netherlandish art, history and museology for the future.

We are currently accepting applications until 19 January 2020 for the following Fellowships:

- Andrew W. Mellon Fellowship for research in art and cultural history
- Terra Foundation Fellowship for research in American photography
- Dr. Anton C. R. Dreesmann Fellowship for art historical research
- Johan Huizinga Fellowship for historical research
- Migelien Gerritzen Fellowship for conservation and scientific research
