ANNOUNCING H-GENOCIDE
H-NET LIST ON THE HISTORY OF GENOCIDE

Sponsored by

H-Net, Humanities & Social Sciences On-line, Michigan State University

H-Genocide is a discussion network for scholars, survivors of genocide, authors, historians and other interested people devoted to the history, analysis, and theory of genocide, including all genocides. This list will enhance and expand discussion of issues not relevant to the H-Holocaust Network, for example, genocides in Rwanda, Burundi, Cambodia, Bosnia, Kosovo, Native Americans, Armenia, from antiquity.

Like all H-Net lists, H-Genocide is moderated to filter out messages that, in the editor's judgement, are not germane to the list's subject or mission, including internet spam, advertisements, subscription management requests, and flames (ad hominem). When posting a message to H-Genocide, you agree to its distribution to the list and its crossposting, with proper attribution, through H-Net's lists and web sites for nonprofit, educational purposes. Please see H-Net's Constitution and Bylaws for information about posting, copyright, and editorial policies: <http://www.h-net.msu.edu/about/>

H-Genocide is a moderated internet discussion forum. The editors are Alan Jacobs <ajacobs@mail.h-net.msu.edu> and Krysia Jacobs <kjacobs@bravenewweb.com> The editors serve two-year renewable terms, with the approval of the H-Net Executive Committee and rotate their duties. The current editor will be identified in all messages coming from the list.

The editors will solicit postings (by email, phone and even by regular mail), will assist people in managing subscriptions and setting up options, will handle routine inquiries, and will consolidate some postings. Anyone with suggestions about what H-Genocide can and might do is invited to send in ideas. The editors will solicit and post newsletter-type information (calls for conferences, for example, or listings of sessions at conventions.) Like all H-Net lists, H-Genocide is moderated to edit out material that, in the editors' opinion, is not germane to the list, involves technical matters (such as subscription management requests), is inflammatory, or violates evolving, yet common, standards of Internet etiquette. The editors will not alter the meaning of messages without the author's permission.

Logs and more information can also be found at the H-Net Web Site, located at <http://h-net.msu.edu/>.
