

Editorial: Pixel Forum, a new page on www.arthist.net

H-ArtHist (Bruhn)

Dear listmembers,

arthist.net now offers a new page in order to provide illustrations for the discussion or for particular queries, like the one we received from Chester Swasey who needs assistance in identifying a lithograph belonging to his private collection.

We regret that we are technically unable to post image files and other attachments via LISTSERV, but in order to support our subscribers as much as possible we'll use www.arthist.net/WForumPx.html for this purpose in the future. Chester's example can already be found there, and comments and suggestions for improving this page will be appreciated.

For the editors,
Matthias Bruhn
