SENIOR LECTURER / LECTURER IN ART HISTORY

Department of Art History

Faculty of Arts

University of Auckland, New Zealand

Vacancy 1273

The Department of Art History is seeking either a Senior Lecturer or a Lecturer to fill a recent vacancy in the area of Italian Renaissance art and Baroque art in Europe. As there is no permanent departmental appointment in Contemporary Art and Theory, applicants with expertise in these areas would also be considered.

The successful candidate would have a PhD, a strong record of research and publication, and teaching experience in his/her area. Some experience in administration would also be a recommendation.

The post could be filled from the beginning of the second semester, July 2001, or from the beginning of the new academic year in 2002, depending on the successful candidates commitments.

Further information and Conditions of Appointment can be obtained from the Academic Appointments Section, telephone 64-9-373 7599 ext 5097; fax 64-9-373 7023; email: appointments@auckland.ac.nz; or from our website at www.nzjobs.co.nz/auckland.ac/

Three copies of applications, quoting Vacancy 1273 must reach the Academic Appointments Section, Human Resources Registry, The University of Auckland, Private Bag 92019, Auckland, New Zealand, by the closing date of 31 May 2001.

The University has an EEO policy and welcomes applications from all qualified persons
