CROSSROADS IN CULTURAL STUDIES

Fourth International Conference

June 29 - July 2, 2002, Tampere, Finland

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT AND CALL FOR PROPOSALS

After the extremely successful Crossroads 2000 in Birmingham, UK, our plan was to continue the international tour of the Crossroads conference site. Unfortunately, we did not manage to get the next conference organized either in Amsterdam or elsewhere. Therefore, the next international biannual Crossroads in Cultural Studies conference will again take place in Tampere, Finland, where it first started in 1996.

Speakers will include

Henry Giroux Akhil Gupta Anu Kantola David Morley
Janet Wolff Shunya Yoshimi * Ming-Bao Yue

The mission of the Crossroads conference is to provide an open forum for all topics that interest the diverse international cultural studies community; to make contacts, exchange views and gain inspiration from each other. We encourage international participation from different countries, disciplines and cultural backgrounds, and from a wide range of research areas. In that way, the conference will also show where cultural studies is going next.

To succeed in this, we especially encourage you to send us session proposals. You may propose a session with a complete list of participants, or just send us the title and session abstract, so people can see it advertised and contact you with their paper proposals. To learn more about the Crossroads conference and how to participate, just visit our web site

On the Crossroads conference web page you can also join the crossroads2002 discussion group, where ideas about session themes can be exchanged and developed.

You are all warmly welcome to the Fourth International Crossroads in Cultural Studies conference!

Best regards,

Pertti Alasuutari

Chair of the organizing committee
