

Humboldt Research Fellowship Program

Institute for European Studies

The Humboldt Research Fellowship Program is seeking qualified scholars of all nationalities and disciplines to carry out long-term research projects in Germany. Fellowships will be awarded based on academic achievement, the quality and feasibility of the proposed research project and the candidate's international publications. The Program will provide a stay of six to twelve months in Germany. Monthly stipends range from DM 3,600 to 4,400 with special allowances available for accompanying family members, travel expenses and German language instruction. Applicants must have a doctoral degree and be less than forty years of age. Scholars in humanities should have sufficient German proficiency and those in the sciences must provide proof that they have sufficient proficiency in English.

Applications may be submitted at any time and the review process takes from five to nine months.
