ArtHist.net

Cataloguer and Curatorial Ass. for manuscripts, Princeton University

Colum P.Hourihane

Job Vacancies

Index of Christian Art

Two Cataloguers-readers required. Three year positions to iconographically catalogue the manuscript collection in Firestone Library, Princeton University. Manuscript experience required (13th-16th centuries) and ability to work with computers. Ph. D. preferred but not essential. Strong editorial skills needed.

Firestone Library

Curatorial Assistant. Two-year position to be supervised by Curator of Manuscripts, Princeton University Library. Responsibilities include textual, physical, and bibliographic description of Western medieval and Renaissance manuscripts; editing descriptions for accuracy and consistency; coordination of photography involving illuminated manuscripts. Candidates must have a graduate-level background in medieval studies, research experience with Western manuscripts and paleography, and a reading knowledge of Latin and at least one Romance or Germanic language. Preferred qualifications include Ph.D. in medieval studies and experience in paleography and codicology.

Rank and salary commensurate with experience.

Applications will be considered beginning November 30th 2001. Apply with names ofthree referees to: Colum Hourihane
Director, Index of Christian Art
A7 McCormick Hall
Princeton University
Princeton, NJ 08544
--

Reference:

JOB: Cataloguer and Curatorial Ass. for manuscripts, Princeton University. In: ArtHist.net, Oct 17, 2001 (accessed Jul 13, 2025), <https://arthist.net/archive/24694>.