H-Net Announce

ANNOUNCING H-LUSO-AFRICA: H-Net Network on Lusophone African Studies

Sponsored by H-Net, Humanities & Social Sciences On-line, Michigan State University and the Lusophone African Studies Organization (LASO).

ABOUT H-LUSO-AFRICA

H-Luso-Africa is a official discussion list initiated by the Lusophone African Studies Organization (LASO). LASO is an independent professional society established in the United States that is open to all scholars with an interest in Lusophone Africa. LASO is affiliated with and officially recognized by the African Studies Association. The aims of the network and the organization are: to promote scholarly research in all areas and disciplines of the social sciences, natural sciences, and humanities about Lusophone Africa; to encourage international cooperation and facilitate the exchange of ideas and meaningful dialogue among persons engaged in research on Lusophone Africa; to encourage the publication and dissemination of scholarly and artistic works as well as primary sources on Lusophone African studies; to organize panels, symposia, and conferences on Lusophone African studies at meetings of regional, national and international organizations; and to provide the general public with information on historical, anthropological, political, economic and other issues related to Lusophone Africa.

H-LUSO-AFRICA is co-edited by Kathleen Sheldon <ksheldon@ucla.edu> and Nick Creary <nmc2@georgetown.edu>. It is advised by a board of scholars.

Like all H-Net lists, H- is moderated to edit out material that, in the editors' opinion, is not germane to the list, involves technical matters (such as subscription management requests), is inflammatory, or violates evolving, yet common, standards of Internet etiquette. H-Net's procedure for resolving disputes over list editorial practices is Article II, Section 2.20 of our bylaws, located at:
