

Transformations in Politics, Culture and Society (Brussels, Belgium, 6.-8.12.02)

Dr.

(Brussels, Belgium, 6.-8.12.02)

Date: 31/7/02

Transformations in Politics, Culture and Society

Location: Belgium

Call for Papers Deadline: 2002-09-06

Provided by H-Announce, <http://www.h-net.msu.edu>

This inter-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary conference seeks to explore transformations in politics, culture, and society and analyse the role of media in provoking, supporting and representing such changes - for example, art and art history, cinema and film, literature and poetry, music, newspapers, and television and radio.

Papers, presentations, and short surveys are invited on issues related to any of the following themes:

dissolution, liberation, reconstruction; political, and economic rejuvenation

invasion, resistance, revolution

coalitions, governments, social reform, and the presentation of political agendas state control of media; political mass communication, election campaigns, lobby groups; propaganda; fringe movements; pressure groups

the place of street drama, posters, graffiti

the importance of land; territory; boundaries; rural/urban; land redistribution education, student rebellions, and the role of the intelligentsia cultural revolutions: status of women, feminism, sexual freedom; representations of gender, ethnicity, sexuality; pornography exposure of labour issues; exposure of class issues

cultural difference and otherness; immigration and immigrants international confrontation; the role and influence of the military

the impact of globalisation

third world issues; global responsibility; public awareness;

ecological issues

medical and social issues in film - for example, drugs, aids, euthanasia role of religion and religious institutions

role and influence of the United States influence of new technologies; multimedia industries, internet,

www, cyberspace

accessibility to data, information, knowledge; the fate of intellectual property. Control of knowledge; anonymity; privacy

the role of the law and legal processes; regulation and legislation; appeal systems

market economies; monopolies and mergers; control of multinationals

Papers will be considered on any related theme, writer, book or film.

300 word abstracts should be submitted by Friday 6th September 2002.

Full draft papers should be submitted by Friday 15th November 2002.

The conference is the first in a series of annual research projects, run under the general banner "Probing the Boundaries". It aims to create working 'encounter' groups between people of differing perspectives, disciplines, professions, and contexts. The project is to be supported by an e-mail discussion group, threaded forum board, e-journal, and dedicated publication series.

Selected papers accepted for and presented at the conference will be published in themed volumes.

The conference is organised by Inter-Disciplinary.Net and sponsored by Learning Solutions. For further details and information, please contact: Dr Rob Fisher, rf@inter-disciplinary.net or see <http://www.inter-disciplinary.net/tpcs1.htm>

Contact information:

Dr Rob Fisher

Email: rf@inter-disciplinary.net

Call for Papers website:

<http://www.inter-disciplinary.net/tpcs1.htm>

--

Reference:

CFP: Transformations in Politics, Culture and Society (Brussels, Belgium, 6.-8.12.02). In: ArtHist.net, Jul 31, 2002 (accessed Mar 11, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/25114>>.