Rome Prize 2003

Fellowship Deadline: 2002-11-01

The American Academy in Rome announces its 2003 Rome Prize competition. Each year, up to 12 Rome Prizes are awarded in the fields of Ancient Studies, Medieval Studies, Renaissance and Early Modern Studies and Modern Italian Studies. Rome Prize winners reside at the Academy's 11-acre center in Rome and receive room and board and a study. Both pre-doctoral and post-doctoral awards are available and carry stipends of $15,000 and $20,000, respectively. Residencies are 11-months. Two-year residencies are awarded to pre-doctoral candidates whose proposal investigates the history of art and architecture.

The Academy invites proposals in archaeology, history, the history of art and architecture, literary studies and musicology. These disciplines are intended to be suggestive, not exclusive. Any humanistic approach, or combination of approaches, to these areas will be given consideration. Furthermore, comparative projects and projects that cut across conventional chronological limits are welcome.

The annual deadline for the Rome Prize is November 1st.
