

Ass. Professor American Studies, Penn State's Capital College (2)

Simon Bronner

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF AMERICAN STUDIES AND VISUAL CULTURE.

Tenure-track position as Assistant or Associate Professor of American Studies and Visual Culture at Penn State's Capital College, with primary assignment at Harrisburg (for more information on the college, see <http://www.hbg.psu.edu>).

The American Studies Program

(undergraduate and graduate) invites applicants with research and college teaching experience in American art history, visual culture, and additional areas such as decorative arts and design studies, architecture, film and television history, history of photography and graphic arts, museum studies and public heritage, and visual communication. Responsibilities include teaching required Program courses and School of Humanities core curriculum covering interpretations and expressions in the humanities. Other responsibilities include university service, advising, and supervising internships and theses. Experience in museums and other public heritage institutions is highly desirable. Ph.D. in American Studies preferred. Send a cover letter explaining experience and match with this description, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, course evaluations, peer observations), and curriculum vitae to American Studies Search Committee, PO Box ASA, c/o Ms. Dorothy Guy, Penn State Harrisburg, 777 West Harrisburg Pike, Middletown, PA 17057-4898. Review of applications begins after December 2, 2002. Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity and the diversity of its workforce.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF AMERICAN STUDIES AND LITERATURE. Tenure-track

position as Assistant Professor of American Studies and Literature at Penn State's Capital College, with primary assignment at Harrisburg (for more information on the college, see <http://www.hbg.psu.edu>). The American Studies Program (undergraduate and graduate) invites applicants with research and college teaching experience in American literature and popular culture.

Responsibilities include teaching required Program courses and School of Humanities core curriculum covering interpretations and expressions in the humanities. Other responsibilities include university service, advising, and supervising internships and theses. Ph.D. in American Studies preferred. Send a cover letter explaining experience and match with this description, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, course evaluations, peer observations), and curriculum vitae to American Studies Search Committee, PO Box ASA, c/o Ms. Dorothy Guy, Penn State Harrisburg, 777 West Harrisburg Pike, Middletown, PA 17057-4898. Review of applications begins after December 2, 2002. Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity and the diversity of its workforce.

SIMON J. BRONNER, Ph.D.
Interim Director, School of Humanities
Distinguished University Professor of American Studies
Penn State University, Capital College
777 West Harrisburg Pike
Middletown, PA 17057-4898
717-948-6470
717-948-6724
sjb2@psu.edu

--

Reference:

JOB: Ass. Professor American Studies, Penn State's Capital College (2). In: ArtHist.net, Oct 8, 2002 (accessed Apr 3, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/25284>>.