

Curating New Media Art web resource

Beryl Graham

CRUMB is a website for those who curate, exhibit, organise, or archive new media art. <<http://www.newmedia.sunderland.ac.uk/crumb/>>

Established in 2000, the site now includes NEW material from a CRUMB research project at SFMOMA (San Francisco Museum of Modern Art), and an interview with curator Benjamin Weil. The site also includes:

CRUMB INTERVIEWS with curators from MoMA (New York), Whitney (New York), Tate (London), ZKM (Germany), C-Plex (West Bromwich).

LINKS to resources.

DISCUSSION LIST.

CONFERENCE DOCUMENTATION.

BIBLIOGRAPHY.

This site is run by new media art curators. Visit often ... leave crumbs of knowledge.

Beryl Graham and Sarah Cook

Beryl Graham.

Post Doctoral Research Fellow in New Media, University of Sunderland

Tel: +44 191 515 2896 email: beryl@stare.com

Curatorial Resource for Upstart Media Bliss

<http://www.newmedia.sunderland.ac.uk/crumb/>

Reference:

WWW: Curating New Media Art web resource. In: ArtHist.net, Jan 7, 2003 (accessed Jul 16, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/25438>>.