12th Gerson Lecture: Hieronymus Bosch and Pieter Bruegel

On the 20th of November Professor Walter Gibson will give the 12th Gerson lecture in the Aula of the University of Groningen, The Netherlands. Professor Gibson is the author of several books and numerous articles on Hieronymus Bosch and Pieter Bruegel. The title of his lecture will be: The Art of Laughter in the Age of Bosch and Bruegel. The text, which will be published as volume 12 in the Gerson Lectures series, will be available immediately after the lecture (^ 8,50).

Preceding the Gerson lecture, there will be two additional lectures on Bosch and Bruegel, both in Dutch. Matthijs Illsink (Ph.D. Cand., University of Nijmegen) will speak on Hieronymus Bosch and prints, ca. 1500 to 1700, and Professor Bart Ramakers (University of Groningen) will speak on representations of farmers in 16th century painting and theater.

All those interested are invited to attend the lectures. There is no registration and no participation fee. Those who wish to order a lunch should transfer ^ 8,00 to the account of the Gerson Foundation (ING-bank nr. 67.01.65.700). Professor Gibson's lecture will be followed by a reception.
