DEUTSCH

"Renewing Ceramics" bietet Wissenschaftlern, Akademikern, Journalisten sowie Künstlern, Designern und Unternehmern ein Forum, um neue Kontakte zu knüpfen und zu debattieren.

Unter der Schirmherrschaft des Bayerischen Staatsministers für Wissenschaft, Forschung und Kunst, Dr. Thomas Goppel, lädt dieser Kongress dazu ein, sich mit der Zukunft der Keramik zu befassen und neue Richtungen aufzuzeigen. International anerkannte Experten geben in Vorträgen, Diskussionsgruppen, Präsentationen und Exkursionen Einblicke in neueste ökonomische, technische und kreative Tendenzen aus der Welt der Keramik.

Während der vier Tage ist die Möglichkeit zu einer engeren Kooperation zwischen Universitäten, freier Wirtschaft und Museen auf international hohem Niveau gegeben. Die Ergebnisse des Kongresses werden in einem Tagungsband festgehalten und veröffentlicht, um diese einem weiteren Fachpublikum zugänglich zu machen.

Ein umfangreiches Rahmenprogramm rundet die Veranstaltung ab.

Der Veranstaltungsort, eine ehemalige Porzellanfabrik, heute das größte Spezialmuseum für Porzellan in Europa beherbergt, bietet Thema und Teilnehmern einen würdigen Rahmen.

"Renewing Ceramics" findet vom 20. bis 23. September 2004 im Europäischen Industriemuseum für Porzellan in Selb-Plößberg/ Nordbayern statt
