

signandsight – arts, essays, ideas from germany

John Lambert

<http://www.signandsight.com/>

signandsight.com is the English version of the German online cultural magazine "Perlentaucher"¹.

signandsight.com provides a lively and informative view of cultural and intellectual life in Germany.

In "Today's Feuilleton"

<<http://www.signandsight.com/intodaysfeuilletons.html>>, which appears every day (Monday-Friday) at 11am, summarises the highlights of the cultural pages of the major German language newspapers. Where possible, we link to the articles themselves.

In the "Features" section, we publish a selection of especially interesting articles in English translation: two or three a week. The Features are saved in an archive, sorted according to both date <<http://www.signandsight.com/features.html>> and topic <<http://www.signandsight.com/features/subjects.html>>.

Books this Season <<http://www.signandsight.com/booksthisseason.html>> is a selection of the most interesting and most discussed (for better or worse) recent literature.

Using the "search function", all the articles can be found by name or topic.

Sometime in the near future, we'll start "B-log", a column on goings-on in Berlin. As of April, readers will be able to subscribe to a "daily newsletter".

<http://www.signandsight.com/>

Contact:

The signandsight editors are:

John Lambert (editor-in-chief)

Naomi Buck

Lucy Powell

Address:

Perlentaucher Medien GmbH

signandsight.com

Chausseestr. 8

10115 Berlin

Tel: 0049/30/400 55 83 - 0

Fax: 0049/30/400 55 83 - 99

Email: editor@signandsight.com

Reference:

WWW: signandsight - arts, essays, ideas from germany. In: ArtHist.net, Mar 7, 2005 (accessed Sep 1, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/27037>>.