

AAH Student Summer School (Glasgow, 7-8 Jul 05)

Chrissie Bradstreet

Association of Art Historians - Student Summer School

Call for Papers

Deadline: June 7, 2005

The Student Members' Group of the Association of Art Historians (AAH) seeks papers from postgraduate and undergraduate students for its annual Summer School, to be held on July 7-8, 2005 at the Glasgow School of Art in Glasgow, Scotland. Papers (c.25 minutes) can cover any aspect of art history or theory.

The summer school will also involve a series of writing, research and career workshops and tours of the art school and local museums. Our keynote speaker will be Professor Alison Yarrington, Glasgow University. It is not necessary to give a paper to attend. For more information visit our website at www.aah.org.uk

Those interested in presenting a paper should submit an abstract (300 words or less) by June 7, 2005 to the conference organiser,

Terri Geis
at terri.geis@gmail.com

Reference:

ANN: AAH Student Summer School (Glasgow, 7-8 Jul 05). In: ArtHist.net, Apr 28, 2005 (accessed Jul 7, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/27127>>.