CALL FOR PAPERS

Convivium 2005:

Children of Abraham: Christians, Jews and Muslims in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Era

Convivium: Siena Center for Medieval and Early Modern Studies, announces its sixth annual multidisciplinary conference, to be held October 7-8th, 2005.

We are interested in papers of all aspects of religious diversity in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Era, across all academic disciplines. Possible subjects include: interactions between members of the three Abrahamic religions; artistic representations of religious diversity; travel narratives; laws, social codes, rituals, or liturgies; Crusade and/or Diaspora; manuscripts and textual transmission; science and religion; women religious and secular; literary cross-fertilization; sacred architecture. We are interested in any topic related to our main subject.

NOTE: This year we will sponsor a session or two featuring excellent undergraduate papers. If you have student papers you would like to submit, please contact me as well.

Deadline: June 15, 2005
