CALL FOR PAPERS

American Association for Eighteenth-Century Studies (ASECS)

PANEL: "Images of Greece" (German Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies)

Thirty-seventh Annual Meeting

Montreal, Quebec

Fairmont - The Queen Elizabeth

March 30 - April 2, 2006

Deadline: 15. Sept, 2005

The concept of classical antiquity encompasses a changing canon of ideas and examples. During the eighteenth century it tends to be identified with Greek culture. But there are concurrent ideas of classical Greece, nourished by different sources. On the one hand there's the tradition of antiquarianism, academic art, the grand tour. On the other there's a new focus on empirical evidence, leading to modern Greek archaeology. In the early nineteenth century the more mediated, traditional approach comes to an end. The panel invites proposals that explore the relations between the creative tradition of classicism and the history of classical scholarship. Approaches might focus on aesthetics and history of the arts.

Proposals for papers should be sent directly to the seminar chairs no later than 15 September 2005.

Please include your telephone and fax numbers and e-mail address. You should also let the session chair know of any anticipated audio-visual needs. Seminar chairs will have until 30 September to send the names of participants, their e-mail addresses, titles of their papers, and audio visual requirements to the ASECS Business Office (asecs@wfu.edu) (Fax: 336-727-4697)

Please be reminded that the Society's rules permit members to present only one paper at the meeting.

Members may, in addition to presenting a paper, serve as a session chair, a respondent, or a panel discussant, but they may not present a paper in those sessions they also chair.

If you submit a paper proposal to more than one session, please be sure that you so notify all the chairs to which you have made a submission. If you fail to notify the session chairs, they will have the right to decide between themselves in which session the paper(s) will be presented or if the papers will be excluded entirely. Participants are expected to be ASECS members by 1 December 2005.
