Frick Collection

Andrew W. Mellon Predoctoral Curatorial Fellowship 2006-2008

Deadline: January 17, 2006

The Frick Collection is pleased to announce the availability of a two-year pre-doctoral fellowship funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation for an outstanding doctoral candidate who wishes to pursue a curatorial career in an art museum. The fellowship will offer invaluable curatorial training and will provide the scholarly and financial resources required for completing the doctoral dissertation. Internationally renowned for its exceptional collection of Western European art from the early Renaissance through the end of the nineteenth century, The Frick Collection, complemented by the equally significant resources of the Frick Art Reference Library, offers a unique opportunity for object-based research. The Mellon fellowship will be awarded to a student working on a dissertation that pertains to one of the major strengths of the Collection and Library.

The Mellon Fellow will have an opportunity to work with curatorial and educational staff on research for special exhibitions and on the permanent collection. Other curatorial training responsibilities include: participation in the organization of the annual Symposium on the History of Art, a two-day event co-sponsored with the Institute of Fine Arts; the preparation, in coordination with a curator, of a dossier exhibition around a work of art in the Collection; and participation in the daily administrative routines of a small museum. The Fellow will have a place of study, access to the collections and library, as well as introductions to New York City museums and libraries. Frick curators and conservation staff will be available for consultation on the dissertation. The Fellow will be expected to give a public lecture on his or her topic. The Fellow will be expected to divide his or her time between the completion of the dissertation and activities in the curatorial department.

Applicants must be within the final two years of completing their dissertation. The Mellon Fellow will receive a stipend of $30,000 per year plus benefits and a travel allowance. The term will begin in September 2006 and conclude in August 2008.

Applications must include the following material:

- A cover letter explaining the applicant's interest in the fellowship and his or her status in the Ph. D. program. The letter should include a home address, phone number, and email address.
- An abstract, not to exceed three typed pages double-spaced, describing the applicant's area of research.
- A complete curriculum vitae of education, employment, honors, awards, and publications.
- A copy of a published paper or a writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation (academic and professional) sent directly to the address below.

The application deadline for the fellowship is January 17, 2006. The Frick Collection plans to make the appointment by the end of March. Finalists will be interviewed. Applications and letters of recommendation should be submitted to:
