"Royal Courts and Capitals"

October 14-16 2005

Sabanci University, Istanbul

The conference will be realized as part of the COST Action "Tributary Empires Compared: Romans, Mughals and Ottomans in the Pre-Industrial World From Antiquity Till the Transition to Modernity". "Tributary Empires Compared" is a four-year project which aims to produce a better understanding of classical tributary empires and the problems relating to segmented, loosely integrated and partly overlapping forms of power and authority, through the establishment of a European network for the comparative study of the Roman, Ottoman, Mughal and related empires. "Royal Courts and Capitals" conference brings together scholars working in different disciplines to explore and share the latest research on imperial courts. The proceedings will be published in the future.
