

Fulbright-Luce Lectureships in Art History

Anne Swartz

Fulbright-Luce Lectureships in Art History

Would you like to observe the contemporary art scene in China first-hand while helping to build the field of Western art history in China? The Fulbright-Luce Scholar grants provide that opportunity. Late applications for these awards are being accepted. Applicants should be U.S. citizens, have a Ph.D. and at least three years of university teaching experience, and be specialists in at least one of the following sub-fields of the discipline: Graeco-Roman, Renaissance, Baroque, Impressionism, modern and contemporary American. In addition to teaching undergraduate and graduate survey courses in Western art history and courses in their area of specialization, grantees will assist host institutions in developing a Western art history curriculum and program.

Grants are for five to ten-months and start in late August 2006 for academic year grants and late August 2006 or mid-February 2007 for five-month grants.

For further information and application materials, visit:

<http://www.cies.org>

or contact:

Senior Program Officer

David B.J. Adams

dadams@cies.iie.org

202-686-4021.

Reference:

JOB: Fulbright-Luce Lectureships in Art History. In: ArtHist.net, Sep 1, 2005 (accessed Dec 18, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/27489>>.