ART HISTORIAN, Contemporary art & Media Theory/criticism

The Centre for Visual and Media Culture (CVMC) at the University of Toronto at Mississauga, University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure-stream position in Contemporary Art and Media Theory and Criticism, at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2006. The CVMC is part of UTM's interdisciplinary Institute of Communication and Culture. The successful candidate will teach and supervise graduate students in the Graduate Department of Fine Art, and teach undergraduate courses in contemporary art, architecture, and visual culture in the CVMC programs. Candidates should demonstrate excellence in scholarship and the potential to be excellent teachers, and have a Ph.D. in hand before July 1, 2006. The starting salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The faculty of the University of Toronto Graduate Department of Fine Art faculty is composed of all art history faculty appointed to the St. George, Mississauga, and Scarborough campuses. Faculty members carry out their undergraduate duties at the campus to which they are appointed; graduate teaching and supervision typically take place on the St. George campus. The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. We offer opportunities to work in many collaborative programs, including Aboriginal, Canadian, environmental, ethno-cultural, sexual diversity, gender and women's studies. The University of Toronto offers the opportunity to teach, conduct research and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Please submit CV and at least (but not limited to) three writing samples by email (strongly preferred) or by mail. Please arrange to have three letters of reference sent by the application deadline by mail and email directly to:
