Expanding East Asian Studies Postdoctoral Fellowship

New York, United States

The Expanding East Asian Studies (ExEAS) program at Columbia University invites applications for postdoctoral fellowships for the 2006-2007 academic year. One or two fellowships will be offered. Each fellowship will cover a 10- or 12-month period beginning July 1, 2006 or September 1, 2006. The stipend for 2006-2007 is $41,000 plus benefits.

ExEAS Fellows will devote half of their time to ExEAS programming and half to their own research and writing. Each Fellow is required to be in residence in the New York City area, develop and teach one undergraduate course at Columbia (either in Fall 2006 or Spring 2007), and participate in all activities of the ExEAS teaching collaborative.

Candidates from all East Asian disciplines and areas are welcome to apply. Recipients of the award must have completed all Ph.D. degree requirements (completed and filed the dissertation) between July 2003 and July 2006. Applications from individuals who hold or have held regular faculty positions will not be considered.

Applicants should submit one original and one photocopy* of the following materials:

- Application Cover Sheet (available from <http://www.exeas.org/fellowship.html>)
- Curriculum vitae
- Proposal for two undergraduate courses. This proposal must not exceed 1,000 words total for both courses (approx. 2 – 3 pages). The courses, to be offered without prerequisite, are to emphasize cross-border, transregional, and interdisciplinary approaches. The actual courses to be introduced will be designed collaboratively, so this proposal is meant to convey a sense of your teaching interests beyond the special field of your research.
- 2-3 page research proposal (not to exceed 1,000 words).
- 3 letters of reference (signed and sealed). Letters of reference may be those included in your placement dossier and may be enclosed with the application (if signed and sealed). Letters may also be sent directly by the referee.

*Only one copy of each letter of reference is required.

All application materials (including letters of reference) should be postmarked on or before January 30, 2006. Faxed or e-mailed applications will not be accepted. Candidates may be invited for a phone interview. All evaluations of applications are confidential. Awards will be announced no later than mid-May 2006.
