A Research Fellowship in Art History / Visual Culture

King's College, Cambridge, wishes to appoint a Research Fellow (a four-year faculty level position), in any aspect of Visual Culture.

The field is conceived as broadly as possible. As well as traditional areas of Art History, applicants may for example be working on non- European art, relationships between cultures, aspects of material culture, inter-relations between different media, history of new media, visual theory, scientific illustration.

The Fellowship will be tenable for up to four years from 1 October 2006.

Graduates of any university are eligible, subject to the condition that they shall have obtained, or expect to obtain, a PhD or equivalent. The successful candidate will be a member of King's College and will be expected to take a full part in College life and to reside in Cambridge.

Further details are available via this link, and an application form is available on-line. Specific questions may be addressed to Professor Simon Goldhill, Research Co-ordinator (email: sdg1001@cam.ac.uk).

The closing date for applications is Tuesday 25 April 2006; short-listed candidates must be available to attend interviews on Thursday 13 July 2006.

King's College follows an equal opportunities policy.
