

Assistant Lecturer/Lecturer (Univ Otago NZ)

Erika Wolf

A full description and application information may be found at the following website:

<http://www.otago.ac.nz/vacancies/index.html>

Assistant Lecturer/Lecturer
(New Zealand Art; Fixed-term, Part-time)

Art History and Theory Programme, University of Otago

Duties and Responsibilities

The successful applicant will teach ARTH 217: New Zealand Art from the 1890s to the 1970s. Duties will include course planning and co-ordination, lecturing, tutoring, marking and student advising under the overall direction of the Head of Department. The successful applicant will also act as a supervisor and internal examiner for fourth-year research papers. Previous experience in university teaching is desirable.

Salary

The salary range for an Assistant Lecturer is $41,858 to $47,610 per annum (pro rata), and for a Lecturer $56,409 to 68,036 per annum (pro rata). Appointment will be made at an appropriate step in these ranges depending on qualifications and experience. Candidates seeking appointment at the Lecturer level should hold a PhD in the field concerned.

Contact Person

Specific enquiries may be directed to Dr Mark Stocker, Art History and Theory Programme Co-ordinator, Department of History, Tel 03 479 8479, Email mark.stocker@stonebow.otago.ac.nz

Applications

The application procedure is set out in the accompanying General Information Statement. Applications quoting reference number A06/73 close with the Human Resources Manager, Human Resources Division on Friday 12 May 2006.

Arthist.net

University of Otago
PO Box 56
Dunedin
NEW ZEALAND

Tel 64 3 479 8269

Fax 64 3 479 8279

Email job.applications@otago.ac.nz

<http://www.otago.ac.nz/arthistory/>

--

Reference:

JOB: Assistant Lecturer/Lecturer (Univ Otago NZ). In: Arthist.net, Apr 10, 2006 (accessed Dec 23, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/28120>>.