H-NET DONATION CAMPAIGN

Dear Colleagues:

Why donate?

H-net is a 501c3 non-profit organization. H-Net makes do with slenderresources. Our staff at MSU consists of just a few folks. They coordinate a family of 175 discussionlists, listsedited by our legion of volunteer (and unpaid) editors. MSU stafforganizethe reviews program, maintain the announcements list and the JobGuide. Our network editors edit thediscussion lists and play the vital(and thankless) role of keeping H-Net free from that junk which clogs somuch of the web--spam, ads.

Your donation will help us keep up with the technology. We'll be able torebuild the underlyingtechnology of H-Net to more effectively handle announcements, reviews,andjob postings. Someday soonWe may be able to expose discussions to web indexing, making them moreaccessible to our colleagues and students.

As Peter said, we frequently hear from subscribers that membership withH-Net hasserved them well.

I hope that you will make a donation to supportH-Net--to support the work of our editors and staff making H-Net a unique place for scholarly collaboration. Your gifts are vital toretaining andimproving the quality of this important professional service.

Tax-deductible donations can be made via credit card or check at or by clicking on "donations" in the top banner of any H-Net web page.

H-Net thanks you for your scholarly contributions and your financialsupport!

Sincerely,

Matthew Gilmore
