

Visiting Prof/Instructor (Catholic Univ., Washington)

Nora M.

The Department of Art at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. seeks Art Historian to teach the second half of a two-semester Western Art History survey course (Introduction to Art History and Historiography from the Renaissance to the Present) this Spring as a visiting professor or instructor.

Prior teaching experience is required, as is a Master's degree, at minimum. Completed (or almost completed) dissertation preferred.

Applicants must be intelligent, warm-hearted, and enthusiastic about teaching an undergraduate population that includes non-majors and studio artists.

Since our department course schedule must be set by Thursday October 5, applicants are urged to apply by sending a resume and a letter of interest to me by FAX or e-mail as soon as possible.

Dr. Nora Heimann

Chair

Department of Art
202 Salve Regina Hall
The Catholic University of America
620 Michigan Avenue N.E.
Washington, DC 20064

Heimann@cua.edu

Phone: 202 319-5282

FAX: 202 319-6390

Reference:

JOB: Visiting Prof/Instructor (Catholic Univ., Washington). In: ArtHist.net, Oct 4, 2006 (accessed May 25, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/28566>>.