ANNOUNCING: H-Material-Culture: H-Net Network for Material Culture and Vernacular Landscapes and Artifact Preservation

Member of: H-Net: Humanities and Social Sciences Online

ABOUT

The H-Net Network on Material Culture and Vernacular Landscapes and Artifact Preservation will promote and support the study of buildings, sites, structures, objects, landscapes and other material cultural productions as part of the visual record of life and work, particularly in the Americas.

The Pioneer America Society and the Association for Preservation of Artifacts and Landscapes <http://www.pioneeramerica.org/> is the sponsor of the Network. Society members represent a range of academic disciplines—including history, geography, landscape architecture, American Studies and folklore—as well as preservation and cultural resources professionals and interested laypersons. The fabric of our membership is representative of the interdisciplinary nature of material culture studies. Presently, there is no network devoted exclusively to material culture. Our network will fill that gap and will provide a space for consistent and timely communication about ideas and resources relevant to material culture scholars, professionals and enthusiasts.

Like all H-Net lists, H-Material-Culture is moderated to edit out material that, in the editors' opinion, is not germane to the list, involves technical matters (such as subscription management requests), is inflammatory, or violates evolving, yet common, standards of Internet etiquette. H-Net's procedure for resolving disputes over list editorial practices is Article II, Section 2.20 of our bylaws, located at:

<http://www.h-net.org/about/by-laws.php>

H-Material-Culture is currently edited by Artimus Keiffer, Pioneer America Society: Association for the Preservation of Artifacts and Landscapes.
