

American Art Symposium (New Haven, 5 May 07)

Crawford Alexander Mann

CALL FOR PAPERS: SUBMISSION DEADLINE EXTENDED TO 21 FEBRUARY

The New American Art History:
Against the American Grain

Graduate Student Symposium - Yale University
Saturday, 5 May 2007

The Department of the History of Art at Yale University announces its fourth annual symposium on new directions in the field of American art history. The symposium's organizers seek proposals from graduate students whose work both exemplifies creative modes of inquiry and breaks with established critical approaches and interpretations. We welcome submissions addressing any medium or period of American artistic production.

Abstracts of approximately 500 words for papers not to exceed 20 minutes in length should be received, along with a CV, by Wednesday, 21 February for consideration. Selected speakers will be notified by Friday, 23 February.

Please e-mail materials to Lynn Saltonstall at lynn.saltonstall@yale.edu, or send to:

"The New American Art History"
Department of the History of Art
Yale University
56 High Street
P. O. Box 208272
New Haven, CT 06520

For inquiries, please contact Donny Meyer at don.meyer@yale.edu.

Reference:

CFP: American Art Symposium (New Haven, 5 May 07). In: ArtHist.net, Feb 2, 2007 (accessed Jul 16, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29015>>.