

History Compass: 2007 Graduate Essay Prize

Keren Oertly

History Compass

Peer reviewed survey articles from across the discipline

Graduate Essay Prize

Unique in both range and approach, History Compass is an online-only journal publishing peer-reviewed survey articles from across the discipline, spanning both centuries and continents.

The editors of History Compass invite submissions for the 2007 Graduate Essay Prize.

Each winner will receive $200/£100 worth of free Blackwell books and have their article published in History Compass journal!

There will be a prize-winning graduate essay for each of the 9 sections on History Compass:

- Africa
- Asia
- Australasia & Pacific
- Britain & Ireland
- Caribbean & Latin America
- Europe
- Middle & Near East
- North America
- World

Deadline: 15 October, 2007.

Guidelines

The prize is open to all graduate students engaged in study at a college or university after their first degree and having not yet completed their doctorate.

Those entering either competition can choose their own topic, though this should be fairly broad. The style of submitted articles should be consistent with other published articles on the sites, that is: they should have a wide scope, be written for non-specialists to acquire an introduction into new fields, and adopt a review or historiographical approach.

The upper word limit is 5000 words, including abstract, footnotes and bibliography.

History Compass Graduate Essays should be submitted by email as a Word document to: HICOeditorial@oxon.blackwellpublishing.com

Graduates must specify:

- * which section they are entering their essay for
- * provide the details of their affiliation
- * provide their supervisor's name and email address

For more information, see www.blackwell-compass.com/homegraduateessay.

History Compass Graduate Essay Prize - Terms & Conditions

1. Please email your essay to HICOeditorial@oxon.blackwellpublishing.com. All essays must specify which section they are entering for, the author's name, address and phone number, their affiliation and their supervisor's name and email address. Entries must be received no later than September 1st 2006.
2. The maximum word limit for each essay is 5000 words, including endnotes and bibliography. Essays can be on any topic related to the study of history, but should contain a survey element, putting the chosen topic in context for the non-specialist.
3. Each section winner will receive books published by Blackwell Publishing of the section winner's choice upto the value of $200/£100. Each section winner will have their article published on History Compass.
4. One section winner will be chosen for each of the nine sections on History Compass. Each section winner will be chosen by a Review Panel for each section consisting of the relevant Editor(s) and three Editorial Board members. Winners will be announced at the 2007 AHA Conference and all winners will be notified by email no later than January 31st 2007.

5. The prize is open to all graduate students engaged in study at a college or university after their first degree and having not yet completed their doctorate. Only one entry per person. Entries sent in through agents or third parties will not be entered into the graduate prize.
6. The prize is subject to availability. Blackwell Publishing reserves the right to substitute a prize of equivalent or greater value if this is necessary for reasons beyond its control. No cash alternative will be offered for any prize.
7. A list of prize winners may be obtained by written request by sending an email to the above address on or before January 31st 2007.
8. Blackwell Publishing's decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into. Entries that do not comply in full with these rules may be disqualified.
9. Blackwell Publishing reserves the right to alter, amend or foreclose this History Compass Graduate Essay Prize without prior notice in the event that unforeseen circumstances make this unavoidable. The Promoter is Blackwell Publishing, 9600 Garsington Rd, Oxford, OX4 2DQ, UK.

--

Reference:

ANN: History Compass: 2007 Graduate Essay Prize. In: ArtHist.net, Apr 30, 2007 (accessed Jun 5, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29148>>.