

Lecturer (Univ Col Cork UK)

Jobs.ac.uk

University College Cork
History of Art
Department of History

<http://jobs.ac.uk/jobfiles/TM169.html>

Senior Lecturer/Lecturer in History of Art

Applications are invited for a full-time permanent post in the Department of History. The appointment will be made at either Senior Lecturer or Lecturer level, depending on qualifications and experience.

The Senior Lecturership is open to candidates with a specialism in any major area or period in the history of western art; s/he would be expected to lead and co-ordinate the development of the History of Art in UCC.

An appointment at Lecturer level would give preference to a candidate with a specialism in Modern/Contemporary History of Art.

At either level of appointment the successful candidate will have a doctorate, a strong research record and a proven ability to contribute widely to undergraduate and postgraduate teaching.

Website: <http://historyofart.ucc.ie>

Informal enquiries may be made to: Dr. Jennifer O'Reilly, Department of History: joreilly@ucc.ie

Salary scales [new entrants]: Senior Lecturer €66,987 – €94,915 Lecturer €34,912 – €81,867

Closing date: Friday, 11 May 2007

Application forms and further details are available on our website at:

<http://hr.ucc.ie/EmploymentOpportunities> or,

Department of Human Resources, University College Cork, Ireland.

Tel: + 353 21 4903073 / Email: recruitment@per.ucc.ie / Fax + 353 21 4276995

University College Cork is an Equal Opportunities Employer

--

Reference:

JOB: Lecturer (Univ Col Cork UK). In: Arthist.net, Apr 28, 2007 (accessed Jun 24, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29232>>.