Subject Lecturer in Asian Art History
Department of International Foundation Courses and English Language
Studies (IFCELS)

School of Oriental & African Studies, University of London

£49.09 per hour / 2-3 hours teaching per week (including lecture)

Fixed term up to 31 July 2008

IFCELS is a lively and vibrant department of SOAS which provides academic foundation and English language courses for international students.

The Department runs a pre-undergraduate foundation programme – Intermediate Certificate Course in Comparative International Studies (ICC). The Art History of Europe, Africa and Asia is one of ten elective units offered on ICC and is taught at CATS level 0.

As the successful candidate, you will be well-qualified in the field of Asian Art History and will work alongside lecturers in African and Western Art History, sharing responsibility for the programme of 24 lectures and accompanying seminars. Substantial experience in teaching international students is highly desirable. As part of the Department's integrated approach to language learning, the postholder will work closely with one or more English language support teachers. Please note that a research record is not a requirement for the post. This post commences on 1 September 2007.

Application forms and further information can be downloaded from www.soas.ac.uk/jobs. Alternatively, write to the Human Resources Department, School of Oriental and African Studies, Thornhaugh Street, Russell Square, London WC1H 0XG, fax: 020 7074 5129 or email recruitment@soas.ac.uk, stating your name, address and the vacancy reference number. CV's will only be accepted when accompanied by an application form. No agencies.

Closing date: 06 June 2007

Interviews to be held w/b 25 June 2007
