

Re: Q: Influence of war on 20th Century Art (2 replies)

[1]

Dear All,

There also is an interesting "Casa degli Invalidi" of roughly the same period in Milan, Italy.

(I'm always hoping to encourage more scholars and students to research Milanese topics, too long languishing for various reasons!)

Best regards,

Star Meyer (Bagatti Valsecchi Museum - Milan, Italy)

starleen.meyer@fastwebnet.it

<http://www.museobagattivalsecchi.org> -

<http://www.bagattivalsecchi.house.museum>

[2]

I am presently working with the British artist Darren Almond on a book about his Terminus work, which relates to the post-war, or cold war period in Poland. You can find information about the work on the Galerie Max Hetzler website.

best,

Kathleen Madden

kathleen.madden@gmail.com

--

Reference:

Q: Re: Q: Influence of war on 20th Century Art (2 replies). In: ArtHist.net, May 28, 2007 (accessed Jul 10, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29326>>.