

American Illustration at 19th C. Studies (Miami April 3-5, 2008)

Eric Segal

Miami April 3-5, 2008

CFP for proposed panel:

AMERICAN ILLUSTRATION AND THE POLITICS OF RACE AND ETHNICITY

29th Annual Conference of the Nineteenth Century Studies Association
Miami in April 3-5, 2008.

For this conference on POLITICS AND PROPAGANDA, I'd like to propose a panel focussing on AMERICAN ILLUSTRATION AND THE POLITICS OF RACE AND ETHNICITY, in the long nineteenth century (to the first World War). Paper proposals are welcome from established scholars and from graduate students taking up any of a variety of concerns including the role of illustration in representations of minorities, fostering white identity, challenging racism, forging racialized nationalities, etc.

Please send a 250-word abstract for a 20 minute paper, paper title, and one-page c.v. to esegal@ufl.edu

I must receive these by Saturday, September 29, 2007. (n.b. the panel proposal is, in turn, due on Monday Oct 1, so please be prompt!)

Conference information is at: <http://www.english.uwosh.edu/roth/ncsa/index.html>

Please feel free to contact me with any questions, or to let me know of your interest in submitting a proposal to this panel.

Regards,

--Eric Segal

Assistant Professor of Art History

School of Art and Art History

University of Florida

PO Box 115801

Gainesville, FL 32611-5801

telephone (352) 392-0201, ext. 252

e-mail esegal@ufl.edu

Reference:

CFP: American Illustration at 19th C. Studies (Miami April 3-5, 2008). In: ArtHist.net, Sep 9, 2007 (accessed Oct 17, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29602>>.