Fourteenth Gerson Lecture: Patricia Lee Rubin, 'Portraits by the Artist as a Young Man: Parmigianino ca. 1524'

On November 22, 2007, Professor Patricia Lee Rubin will give the fourteenth Gerson Lecture in the Aula of the University of Groningen, The Netherlands. Professor Rubin is Deputy Director of the Courtauld Institute of Art and Head of the Courtauld Institute of Art Research Forum, and the author of numerous articles and several books, including Images and Identity in Fifteenth-Century Florence (2007) and Giorgio

Vasari: Art and History (1995). Her lecture is titled: 'Portraits by the Artist as a Young Man: Parmigianino ca. 1524'. Her text will be available immediately after the lecture, as volume 14 of the series 'Gerson Lectures'.

Preceding the Gerson Lecture, there will be two additional lectures on related topics, by dr. Lyckle de Vries (Groningen) and dr. Truus van Bueren (University of Utrecht). They will be held in the lecture room of the Department of Art History, Oude Boteringestraat 34, Groningen.

In the morning, there will be the presentation of a book on Horst Gerson, written by dr. Edward Grasman (Leiden University) on behalf of the Gerson Lectures Foundation: Gerson in Groningen. Een portret van Horst Gerson, kunstkenner en hoogleraar kunstgeschiedenis (1907-1978). Speakers will be: prof. dr. Rudi Ekkart (Director of the Netherlands Institute for Art History), prof. dr. Henk van Os (University of Amsterdam) and dr. Edward Grasman himself.

All those interested are invited to attend the lectures. There is no registration and no participation fee.
