In addition to the panels, keynotes, workshops and discussions listed at the end of this message, a number of special events will be taking place during the re:place 2007 conference:

*** A Visit to the Flusser-Archive

The Vilem Flusser Archive was moved to Berlin's University of the Arts in 2007. Its director, Silvia M. Wagnermaier, and Prof. Dr. Siegfried Zielinski will offer a special introduction to the archive for re:place 2007 participants.
15 November, Thursday, 10.00 h
Universität der Künste, Berlin-Schöneberg, Grunewaldstr. 2-5 (U7 Kleistpark, Bus 187)

** Lunchtime Discussion: Gerd Stern / USCO

Gerd Stern (1936, Saarbrücken) is a pioneer of multi-media art who co-founded the USCO ('Company of Us') group, that was esp. active during the 1960s and 70s, based in a building north of New York City that still belongs to USCO's Intermedia Foundation, formed in 1968. Stern is currently in residence with the DAAD in Berlin.

16 November, Friday, 13.00-14.00, Conference Hall 2

*** Forum Discussion: ISEA2008

Gunalan Nadarajan, Artistic Director of the International Symposium on Electronic Art in Singapore (25 July - 3 August, 2008), will discuss the themes and current state of planning of ISEA2008.

16 November, Friday, 18:30-20:00, Conference Hall 3 (dinner discussion)

*** Lunchtime Discussion: Woody Vasulka and Don Foresta / MARCEL

MARCEL is a permanent broadband interactive network and web site dedicated to artistic, educational and cultural experimentation, exchange between art and science and collaboration between art and industry. Woody and Steina Vasulka have been working for some time to build an online archive of film and video art for free distribution over the MARCEL network. Vasulka and Foresta will explain the value of their resource to the academic community and potential future partners.

17 November, Saturday, 13.00-14.00, Conference Hall 2

*** Forum Discussion: Access for International Scholarship

An exchange about Archiving MediaArtHistory.

17 November, Saturday, 18:30-20:00, Conference Hall 3 (dinner discussion)

*** Exhibition: Exploding Camera by Julien Maire

This celebrated new installation transforms the exhibition space into an experimental film studio reminiscent of a battlefield. Through a deconstruction of media image production, the absurdity and the lure of facts are brought to light.

14-18 November, daily, 10:00-20:00, HKW, Lower Foyer

In cooperation with Kunstfabrik (Am Flutgraben 3, Berlin-Kreuzberg/Treptow), where two other recent works by Julien Maire will be on show during re:place 2007: "Digit" and "Low Resolution Cinema". (open Tue-Sun, 14:00-19:00; opening Wed 14 November, 19:00-21:00)

Documentary films, photographs, and audio material documents illustrate aspects of the work of the most influential Dutch electronic artist and composer, Dick Raaijmakers (1930).
9 November - 2 December 2007, Tue-Sun 18:00-24:00

*** Takuro Osaka - History and Present of Space Art in Japan
For years, Osaka has been dealing with light, radiation and forces beyond human perception, like for instance gamma rays that he translates into audible sounds.
tesla salon, 13 November, Tuesday, 20.30

*** Timothy Druckrey - Cinemedia: Archaeologies of Computation and AI in Cinema
tesla salon, 15 November, Thursday, 21:00

*** Two Evenings - Performances and Installation Composer and sound artist Matt Rogalsky (US) will perform his own works, as well as Tudor's "Microphon", which was created in 1970 for the Pepsi pavilion of the Osaka world fair. And with "Tesla Transmissions", composer and sound artist Hans W. Koch and musicologist Volker Straebel take up a subject which John Cage treated in "Variations VII" of the "9 Evenings": the process of transmission and live electronic manipulation of various sounds.
Friday 16 and Saturday 17 November (both nights):
performance: Matt Rogalsky "Transform" / David Tudor "Microphon", 21:00, Klub

re:place 2007

The Second International Conference on the Histories of Media, Art, Science and Technology

Location: Haus der Kulturen der Welt, Berlin

Date: 15-18 November 2007

Information: <http://tamtam.mi2.hr/replace>

An interdisciplinary forum of over 70 researchers and artists from all over the world, re:place

2007 presents multiple historical relations between art, science and technology. The title

're:place' refers to the sites and the migration of artistic and knowledge production. This theme is highlighted during the panel discussions and poster sessions, particularly in the 'Place

Studies' stream which looks at specific historical instances and settings. Special attention will be given to alternatives to the 'Western' historical paradigms through presentations about art-science relations in the former Soviet Union, Africa, and Latin America. The conference includes general forum discussions on interdisciplinary research strategies, as well as keynote lectures by Lorraine Daston and Siegfried Zielinski.

re:place 2007 is a project of Kulturprojekte Berlin GmbH in cooperation with Haus der Kulturen der Welt, Berlin. Funded by Hauptstadtkulturfonds, Berlin. Conference partners include Leonardo, Database of Virtual Art at Danube University Krems' Center for Image Science, Ludwig Boltzmann Institute Media.Art.Research, Helmholtz-Zentrum für Kulturtechnik at Humboldt Universität Berlin, and others. Supported by the Institut für Auslandsbeziehungen, Canadian Embassy, the Embassy of the USA, Tschechisches Zentrum Berlin - CzechPoint and Schwedische Botschaft Berlin.

Conference chairs: Andreas Broeckmann (D), Gunalan Nadarajan (SG/USA)
