

One-year Curator/Researcher (Univ. of Sunderland)

Bery Graham

University of Sunderland
School of Arts, Design, Media & Culture

Post Doctoral Researcher
Fixed term from May 2008 to April 2009
GBP 27,466 - GBP 32,796 per annum

The School of Arts, Design, Media & Culture seeks to appoint, a post doctoral level researcher to join the collaborative research team CRUMB (www.crumbweb.org) supported by the Arts and Humanities Research Council. The post will undertake a 12 month project on 'Curating new media art: networks and connections'. The position will involve contributing to the professional practice and research culture of curating new media art in the local region, nationally and internationally.

You will have a post graduate level qualification or equivalent in a relevant area, a strong record of conducting independent research with a track record of curating new media art with organisations to national and international standing.

For an informal discussion about the post please contact Professor Beryl Graham, Principal Investigator, by email beryl.graham@sunderland.ac.uk

Ref No: ADR020/1469

An application form and Role Profile can be obtained by contacting Human Resources on 0191 515 2057 or www.sunderland.ac.uk/jobs

Closing Date: 25 January 2008

CRUMB is supported by funding from the Arts and Humanities Research Council.

Reference:

JOB: One-year Curator/Researcher (Univ. of Sunderland). In: ArtHist.net, Dec 17, 2007 (accessed Dec 17, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/29924>>.