The Object in Transition

A Cross-Disciplinary Conference on the Preservation and Study of Modern and Contemporary Art

January 25-26, 2008, 9:00 a.m-5:00 p.m.

The Getty Center, Los Angeles

Open to professionals in the arts community, this conference engages curators, art historians, and conservators in cross-disciplinary dialogue about the conservation of contemporary art.

Online registration is now available.

On January 25 and 26, 2008, the Getty Conservation Institute and the Getty Research Institute will present "The Object in Transition: A Cross Disciplinary Conference on the Preservation and Study of Modern and Contemporary Art," a major conference at the Getty Center on the conservation of contemporary sculpture, painting, and mixed-media artworks, and the collaborative possibilities for conservators, art historians, and curators working in these fields. This two-day event aims to foster increased dialogue among these fields, primarily via intensive professional dialogues on case studies and general panel discussions. A number of relevant art works are anticipated to be on display, enabling the audience to participate in the discussion of these works.

Topics include: the importance of an artwork's surface, dealing with process, the artist's voice and intent, the life and death of objects, and methods of improved collaboration.

Artists whose work will be discussed include: Eve Hesse, Sol LeWit, Roy Lichtenstein, Piet Mondrian, Bruce Nauman, Barnett Newman, David Novros, and James Turrell.

* Confirmed speakers include Michelle Barger, Yve-Alain Bois, David Bomford, Jim Coddington, Lynne Cooke, Jack Cowart, Brad Epley, Heather Galloway, Gary Garrels, IJsbrand Hummelen, Pip Laurenson, Tom Learner, Carol Mancusi-Ungaro, Christine Mehring, David Novros, Andrew Perchuk, Glenn Phillips, Ron Spronk, Jill Sterrett, Carol Stringari, Elisabeth Sussman, Nancy Troy, David Turnbull, Anne Wagner, Jeffrey Weiss, Glenn Wharton, Stephanie Wiles, and Julie Wolfe.

Conference Program

THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 2008

7:30 P.M. OBJECT IN TRANSITION: CONTEMPORARY VOICES

Artists Robert Gober, Rachel Harrison, Paul McCarthy and Doris Salcedo join curator Elisabeth Sussman and conservator Christian Scheidemann in discussing the often complex production process of their art works, the ephemeral nature of some of the modern materials from which they are created, and the implications this may have for the long-term survival of their art. OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.
