

Teaching Fellow / Postdoctoral Research Associate, Univ. Manchester

David Lomas

1)

Teaching Fellow (0.8 F/T)

Art History and Visual Studies
University of Manchester

The Centre for Studies of Surrealism and its Legacies has received a major AHRC award for a three-year research project on 'Surrealism and Sexuality', commencing in September 2008. We are seeking to appoint a Teaching Fellow (0.8 of full-time) in Art History and Visual Studies at the University of Manchester. You should have a PhD in a subject area relevant to studies of surrealism and/or its legacies. You will be expected to undertake replacement teaching of between 3 and 4 taught course units per year. In addition, you will have an administrative role within the Centre for Studies of Surrealism and its Legacies, arranging events and providing editorial assistance for the online journal, Papers of Surrealism. There will be opportunities to participate where appropriate in the Centre's academic events. The position is 0.8 of full-time, equivalent to 4 days per week. It is available from 1 September 2008 and is tenable for up to three years.

Closing date: 30 April 2008.

Salary: GBP 30,912 - 33,780 p.a. (pro rata)

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr David Lomas (david.c.lomas@manchester.ac.uk). Please visit the University of Manchester website (www.manchester.ac.uk/jobs) for further particulars about this job (Ref: HUM/80252) and how to make an application. Applications should include a covering letter, a full c-v, and names of two referees.

2)

Postdoctoral Research Associate (Surrealism and Sexuality)

Centre for Studies of Surrealism and its Legacies/Art History and Visual Studies University of Manchester

The Centre for Studies of Surrealism and its Legacies has received a major AHRC award for a three-year research project on 'Surrealism and Sexuality', commencing in September 2008. We are seeking an outstanding candidate for a post-doctoral position working with Dr David Lomas at the University of Manchester. You should have a PhD in a relevant subject area. This is likely to be some aspect of surrealism, with a demonstrable research interest in issues of gender and sexuality. You will be a key contributor to the joint activities and outputs of the project. In addition, you will be expected to pursue individual research leading to a major publication during the lifetime of the project. You will undertake some teaching and research student supervision. The position is available from 1 September 2008 and is tenable for up to three years.

Closing date: 30 April 2008

Salary: GBP 27,466 - GBP 33,780 p.a.

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr David Lomas (david.c.lomas@manchester.ac.uk). Please visit the University of Manchester website (www.manchester.ac.uk/jobs) for further particulars about this job (Ref: HUM/80253) and how to make an application. Applications should include a covering letter, a full c-v, names of two referees, a detailed description of your research project and publication plans, and a sample publication or piece of writing.

Reference:

JOB: Teaching Fellow / Postdoctoral Research Associate, Univ. Manchester. In: ArtHist.net, Apr 18, 2008 (accessed Jul 4, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/30353>>.