35th AAH ANNUAL CONFERENCE

2–4 APRIL 2009

Manchester Metropolitan University, MIRIAD

Call for Papers

The 35th Association of Art Historians conference will focus on the intersections (connections, linkages, overlaps) of art history with different disciplinary, methodological, political and historical spaces.

It is hoped that the sessions will attract participants from across disciplines and art practices to open up fully debates and explorations of art history as a discipline of intersections.

If you would like to offer a paper, please visit the list of sessions and the 'Call for Papers' for the individual sessions which are posted on the websites of both the AAH <http://www.aah.org.uk> and MIRIAD <http://www.miriad.mmu.ac.uk/aah09>

Paper abstracts need to be submitted directly to the session convenor(s), not to the conference convenor. You will find a Paper Submission Form on the websites.

Deadline for submission of paper abstracts: 10 November 2008.
