

Fulbright Award in Art History 09-10

asiaandpacific

Fulbright Award in Art History 09-10

The Fulbright Scholar Program is offering several lecturing awards in art history in Taiwan for 2009-10. These awards provide scholars the opportunity to teach undergraduate- and/or graduate-level courses in their area of specialization. Grantees may also have the opportunity to present public lectures and seminars and to collaborate on research projects. Topics of interest include but are not limited to art history and theory in the modern period and in the 17th-19th centuries. Awards range from 5 to 10 months and can begin in September 2009 or January-February 2010. Lecturing is in English. U.S. citizenship and a Ph.D. or its equivalent terminal/ professional degree are required. The application deadline is August 1, 2008.

To view the award listing, please visit

http://www.cies.org/award_book/award2009/award/Soc9171.htm

For more information and the online application please visit www.cies.org <<http://www.cies.org/>>

(award #9171) or contact Lindsay

Hench (lhench@cies.iie.org; 202.686.4020).

Reference:

STIP: Fulbright Award in Art History 09-10. In: ArtHist.net, Jul 4, 2008 (accessed Sep 22, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/30646>>.